GALILEO GALILEI SECTOR PACK

Properties list:

reusability end-user packaging single product concept office and stationery folding carton identity by shape cardboard and paper contemporary identity by colour identity by illustration

A sector is a mathematical tool invented by Galileo Galilei, precursor of the calculation rulers which accompanied the technicians until the last quarter of 20th century. A double box makes an ?english type? sector, totally functional, and also a container for the compass nece ssary for its use. It was developed as an institutional gift.

Reference:

Credits:

Country: Spain Year: 2009 School: Escola Massana Centre d'Art i Disseny (Barcelona, Spain)

Course: Packaging Seminar

Professor: Iñaki Granell

Students: Laura Nogaledo & Rut Rovira

Other images:

