SOY MAMELLE

KIAN took on the process of naming, formulating a creative brand conception, and creating the package shape. Soy milk "Soy mamelle" is a 100% vegetative product. It is a source of high grade fiber and calcium, containing no cholesterol and a proven ability to actually lower cholesterol levels in the human body.

The developed conception of the package shape resembled an udder, which presents the first half of the message in that soy milk is identical to that of a cow. The second part of the message is delivered via the colour score and décor of the packaging, which concentrate on the phytogenesis of the product, creating an image of nature and health.

The package can be made of a PET or a glass. It has convenient lid and leans on a 3 legs. This finding has tremendous potential for improvement of brand identity in POS-materials and nonstandard equipment trading.

Properties list:

single product
concept
milk
additional structural elements
other shapes
plastics
glass and ceramics
natural contemporary
eco-friendly
transparent
smooth
identity by shape
identity by colour
identity by abstract shapes end-user packaging

Reference: http://kian.ru/eng/projects/soy/

Credits:

Country: Russia Year: 2010

Agency: Kian Brand

Agency

Other images:

